INTRODUCTION and GENERAL INDEX

R. L. POLK & CO., publishers of more than 750 city, county, state and national Directories, present to subscribers and the general public, this, the 1955-56 edition of the San Francisco City Directory.

Confidence in the continued growth of San Francisco's industry, population and wealth, and in the advancement of its civic and social activities, will be maintained as sections of this Directory are consulted, for the Directory is a mirror truly reflecting San Francisco to the world.

The enviable position occupied by R. L. POLK & CO.'S Directories in the estimation of the public throughout the country, has been established by rendering the best in Directory service. With an unrivaled organization, and having had the courteous and hearty cooperation of the business and professional men and residents, the publishers feel that the result of their labors will meet with the approval of every user, and that the San Francisco Directory will fulfill its mission as a source of authentic information pertaining to the city.

Four Major Departments

The four major departments are arranged in the following order:—

I. THE ALPHABETICAL LIST OF NAMES of residents and business and professional concerns is the first major department, printed on white paper. This is the only record in existence that aims to show the name, marital status, occupation and address of each adult resident of San Francisco, and the name, official personnel, nature and address of each firm and corporation in the city.

II. THE DIRECTORY OF HOUSEHOLDERS, INCLUDING STREET AND AVENUE GUIDE, on pink paper, is the second major department. In this section the numbered streets are arranged in numerical order, followed by the named streets in alphabetical order; the numbers of the residences and business concerns are arranged in numerical order under the name of each street, and the names of the householders and concerns are placed opposite the numbers. The names of the intersecting streets appear at their respective crossing points on each street. Special features of this section are the designation of tenant-owned homes and the listing of telephone numbers.

III. THE BUYERS' GUIDE, the third major department, printed on goldenrod paper, contains the advertisements of leading manufacturing, commercial and professional interests of San Francisco. The advertisements are indexed under headings descriptive of the business represented. This is reference advertising at its best, and merits a survey by all buyers eager to familiarize themselves with sources of supply. In a great metropolis and port city like San Francisco, the necessity of having this kind of information immediately available, is obvious. General appreciation of this fact is evidenced by the many reference users of this City Directory service.

IV. THE CLASSIFIED BUSINESS DIRECTORY is the fourth major department, printed on yellow paper. This department lists the names of all business and professional concerns in alphabetical order under appropriate headings. This feature constitutes an invaluable and indispensable catalog of the numerous interests of the community. The Directory is the common intermediary between buyer and seller. As such it plays an important part in the daily activities of the commercial and professional world. More buyers and sellers meet through the Classified Business Directory than through any other medium.

Municipal Publicity

The Directory reflects the achievements and ambitions of the city, depicting in unbiased terms what it has to offer as a place of residence, as a business location, as a port, as a manufacturing site and as an educational center. To broadcast this information, the publishers have placed copies of this issue of the Directory in Directory Libraries, where they are readily available for free public reference, and serve as perpetual and reliable advertisements of San Francisco.

The San Francisco Directory Library

Through the courtesy of the publishers of the San Francisco City Directory, a Directory Library is maintained at the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, for free reference by the general public. This is one of more than 700 Directory Libraries installed in the chief cities of the U. S. and Canada by members of the Association of North American Directory Publishers, under whose supervision the system is operated.

The publishers appreciatively acknowledge the recognition by those progressive business and professional men who have demonstrated their confidence in the City Directory as an advertising medium, with assurance that it will bring a commensurate return.

SITUATION

San Francisco, "City by the Golden Gate," whose City Hall is geographically situated at 37 degrees 47 minutes north latitude and 122 degrees 25 minutes west longitude—on a hilly peninsula with altitudes ranging from sea level to 933.6 feet U. S. Base, is bounded on three sides by water. Of a total of 93.1 square miles, only 44.82 are land. It is among the few world cities with the distinction of having more than half of its entire area washed daily by the ocean's tidal currents.

San Francisco has within its boundaries three islands—Yerba Buena, Treasure and Alcatraz—besides the Farallon Islands group some 32 miles west of San Francisco, which have been included in the City and County of San Francisco since 1872.

HISTORY

Discovery

San Francisco owes its discovery and much of its history to the daring and adventure-loving early Portuguese, English and Spanish explorers. The romance of those early days clings to the city and lends charm to its atmosphere even today.

Though San Francisco's heritage is rightly credited to the Spanish, more than two centuries before Portola's arrival, Juan Rodrigues Cabrillo in 1542 discovered the Farallon Islands (now a part of San Francisco); next Sir Francis Drake, famed English explorer, passed by the Golden Gate and in 1579 discovered Drake's Bay, a few miles north of San Francisco, where the first church service in the English language on the Pacific Coast was held.

In 1769, Don Gaspar de Portola and his little band of adventurers were the first to glimpse the bay from the nearby hills on the south. Six years later the ship "San Carlos," in command of Don Juan Manuel Ayala, sailed through the Golden Gate to cast the first anchor in the bay. More than a century before, in 1603, Vizcaino visited what is now the Gulf of the Farallons and mapped it as Bahia de Puerto de San Francisco. This is the first time the name San Francisco appeared on record in connection with the vicinity of San Francisco.

Early Beginnings

The beginning of what is now San Francisco was just being founded by the Spaniards when the Liberty Bell pealed the birth of our nation. First Spaniards, then Russians, then Americans came and lived to enjoy life and to rule.

Colonel Juan Bautista de Anza on March 28, 1776, selected the site for the Presidio of San Francisco, and on March 29, 1776, the site for the mission which was dedicated to St. Francis de Assisi. While from the beginning the mission was called San Francisco, the settlement at the cove under Telegraph Hill was known as Yerba Buena.

First Elections

Democratic self-government of the bureaucratic sort decreed by the Mexican Republic came to Yerba Buena (later named San Francisco) before the town itself arrived. Citizens of the partido (civil district) of San Francisco, on Governor Jose Figueroa's orders, assembled at the Presidio on Dec. 7, 1834, to choose electors for the Ayuntamiento (district council). On the following Sunday, Don Francisco de Haro was elected to the district council as Alcalde for the projected pueblo of Yerba Buena.

Naming of the City

The village of Yerba Buena, which in 1847 was to be rechristened with the name of San Francisco, in 1835 was still an insignificant outpost frequented by roving seafarers and was little more than a waste of sand and chaparral, sloping down to a beach and small lagoon which has long since been filled in and is now covered by massive commercial structures. El Paraje de Yerba Buena (the Little Valley of the Good Herb) derived its name in the beginning because of the aromatic vine found in the underbrush there.

The Bay

In 1835, the Bay was declared a port of entry by Governor Pablo Vicente de Sola. He appointed as captain of the Port of San Francisco, William Antonio Richardson, a young master mariner who had deserted the British whaler "Orion" in 1822 and set up the first "house" in Yerba Buena Cove, made up of some redwood poles over which was stretched a ship's sail.

During 1836, the Port of San Francisco became an important trading post. On July 1, 1836, Jacob Primer Leese, Ohio-born, partner in a Monterey mercantile firm, arrived by the barque "Don Quixote" from Monterey and by July 4 had thrown up a frame house 25 by 60 feet, the first "real" house to be built—part dwelling and part warehouse. He then summoned all the leading Mexican families and other prominent persons to an Independence Day celebration which lasted two days and a night. During the celebration the Stars and Stripes were raised beside the Mexican flag for the first time in San Francisco.

First Survey

In the autumn of 1839, Jacques Vioget, a versatile Swiss of the Peruvian brig "Delmira," was commissioned by Alcalde de Haro to make the first land survey of Yerba Buena. By 1841 thirty families comprised the village population. During the next five years some of the prominent early settlers shifted to other localities in the Bay Area. At the same time, Yerba Buena, outrivaled by the port of Honolulu, drifted back into obscurity.

"The Portsmouth"

Then, on July 9, 1846, the "U. S. S. Portsmouth" quietly dropped anchor in Yerba Buena Cove, and Capt. John B. Montgomery and 70 sailors and marines came ashore and ran up the Stars and Stripes on Mexico's flagpole atop the adobe Custom House near the Plaza, as the "Portsmouth" gave a 21-gun salute. Thus passed the rule of the village of Yerba Buena from Spanish to American. On Aug. 6, 1846, Captain Montgomery appointed Lieut. Washington Allen Bartlett as the first Alcalde of Yerba Buena under the American flag. Bartlett was confirmed by public vote on Sept. 15. His first important decree ordered the revision of Vioget's survey, which had served to locate building lots since 1839. His civil engineer, Jasper O'Farrell, in making the survey, discovered in 1847 that streets as laid out in the early survey intersected at 2½ degrees from a right angle. Correction of this error, known as "O'Farrell's Swing," was made promptly.

A Reception Center Since Gold Days

When gold was discovered on Jan. 24, 1848, in Sutter's millrace on the American River, and the evidence reached San Francisco's nearly 900 inhabitants, the first gold rush, led by Sam Brannan, publisher of the town's newspaper, "The Star," left only seven inhabitants behind. As the news spread around the world and ships came streaming into the harbor, a year later found over 6,000 miners at the diggings, and San Francisco again was a cantonment of tents with a population reported at 2,000 excited transients.

GOVERNMENT

San Francisco has a consolidated City and County government, with legislative powers vested in a board of supervisors of eleven members, five and six being elected every two years for four-year terms. The Mayor, Treasurer, Assessor, City Attorney, Public Defender, District Attorney, Sheriff, and Superior and Municipal Court Judges are elected by the people and serve terms of four years. The Mayor receives $22,400 a year. The Chief Administrative Officer, appointed by the Mayor but thereafter having permanent tenure, receives $17,000 per annum. The Controller, appointed by the Mayor, subject to confirmation by the Supervisors, also has tenure. The Mayor appoints members of and supervises police, fire, civil service, public utilities, park and recreation, welfare, library, city planning, art, housing, parking permit appeals, redevelopment, retirement (in part) and welfare boards or commissions, and may remove his appointees except civil service, public utilities and welfare commissioners. The Mayor also has a power of veto over legislation.

The San Francisco Unified School District and the City and County have coterminous boundaries. Members of the Board of Education are nominated by the Mayor and passed upon by the voters.

San Francisco has operated under five charters, granted in 1850, 1856, 1861, 1898 and 1932.

Initiative and referendum clauses were first embraced in the 1898 charter.

Mayor James Rolph, Jr., took office in 1911 and served five successive terms, until he became Governor of the State. In 1931 he was succeeded by Angelo J. Rossi, who served until 1944, when he was succeeded by Roger D. Lapham, who pledged himself in advance to one term only. Mayor Elmer E. Robinson took office Jan. 8, 1948, for a four-year term, and was re-elected for a second four-year term ending Jan. 8, 1956. The present mayor is George Christopher.

HARBOR AND COMMERCE

Centered in the San Francisco Bay Area, San Francisco is an important port of general commerce, handling a large and valuable domestic and foreign trade. It is the main gateway of commerce for the vast territory of the Central Pacific Coast Area and Intermountain States. The Bay extends from the Golden Gate to the confluence of the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers on the northeast, and to a point near San Jose on the south, covering an area of 450 square miles. The deep-water commerce enters San Francisco Bay through the mile-wide Golden Gate, and thus shipping is afforded natural protection in the waters of the Bay. To this has been added a comprehensive system of docking and berthing facilities, rail and freight connections, modern and well-equipped warehouses, etc. San Francisco harbor has 18 miles of berthing space; 229 acres of pier and wharf area; 43 modern piers; facilities to dock the largest vessels; several dry docks; 61 miles of harbor trackage connecting piers and warehouses; foreign-trade zone; and modern grain, refrigeration, banana, cotton, copra and heliport terminals.

The harbor is controlled by the State of California and is governed by the State Board of Harbor Commissioners appointed by the Governor. Of the 43 piers, most of them are assigned to steamship companies having their own fleets and operating their own schedules. San Francisco harbor facilities are valued at more than $100,000,000.

The water-borne cargo tonnage of San Francisco Bay is foremost on the Pacific Coast and high among those of the nation's ports.

Exports during 1954 amounted to..$403,696,502

Imports during 1954 amounted to..$324,758,091

The principal exports by value have been cotton (unmanufactured); fruits, dried and evaporated; petroleum products; rice; milk, canned, evaporated and dried; machinery; medical and pharmaceutical preparations; and electrical machinery and apparatus.

The principal imports, have been coffee, copra, crude petroleum, lead ores, newsprint paper stock, jute and burlap, tea, nut preparations, wool and rubber.

The 1953 report of the U. S. Army Engineers shows the distribution of the cargo tonnage, domestic and foreign, as follows:

Total tonnage, San Francisco Bay	44,922,586
Foreign tonnage	6,367,967
Inland waterway tonnage	14,360,265
Domestic coastwise tonnage	24,194,354

Besides the movement of commodities by water, there is a large rail traffic in San Francisco; during 1954 it reached 162,117 freight-car movements, and 3,435,646 truck movements over Bay and Golden Gate bridges.

San Francisco also is the ocean port for the great inland valleys of California, 500 miles in length and 50 miles wide and containing 16,100,000 acres of farm land. About 6,400,000 acres of this is crop land, of which several million acres are irrigated.

San Francisco is normally a port of call for some 70 shipping lines, with ships serving at least 300 of the world's ports.

TRANSPORTATION

Distribution Facilities—A vast transportation network, including transcontinental rail and highway facilities, air transport services, and steamship lines, converges in San Francisco, bringing unexcelled transportation services to local industry and business. San Francisco's fortunate geographic position on the Pacific Coast, combined with excellent distribution facilities, makes it possible for business and industry located here to serve a larger portion of the Western markets at lower distribution costs than can be reached from any other Pacific Coast city.

Rail

San Francisco is served directly by four Class I railroads operating more than 27,000 miles of line in 14 states. These railroads with their connections thoroughly blanket California and neighboring states, and by means of seven major transcontinental routes and connecting routes provide fast, dependable service to and from all parts of the U. S., Canada and Mexico. Passenger trains second to none are operated to and from the city. Reciprocal switching arrangements are in effect, under which the line-haul carrier will absorb the charges of the switching carrier on competitive traffic. Over 50 railroads maintain off-line agencies here.

State Belt Railroad—These four railroads connect with the State Belt which serves the San Francisco piers and many industries near the waterfront. They absorb the Belt's switching charge on line-haul carload traffic and, in part, on interline switching movements subject to stated minimum revenue per car.

L. C. L. Service—Store-door pick-up and delivery service for less-than-carload traffic is available between San Francisco and practically all points in California and neighboring states, including over-night service to points in the San Joaquin and Sacramento valleys, along the Coast, and Los Angeles.

Water

Fast new freighters provide regular service between San Francisco and the Hawaiian Islands, Australia, New Zealand, the South Seas, the Orient, Central and South America, the West Indies, Europe, South Africa and North Africa, also the Atlantic and Gulf coasts of the U. S. Luxurious and reconverted passenger liners operate to the Hawaiian Islands, the Orient and around the world. Limited passenger accommodations are available on freighters to Australia, the Orient, Central and South America, Europe, Puerto Rico, South Africa, and the East Coast of the U. S. Barge services for bulk and general cargo are maintained to points on San Francisco Bay and connecting waters.

Highway

Truck Lines—Over 100 common-carrier truck lines provide scheduled service between San Francisco and points in California and neighboring states. Overnight service is available to all important points in California and to southern Oregon and western Nevada. In addition, more than 600 truck operators having headquarters or agencies in San Francisco hold intrastate permits from the Public Utilities Commission of California or interstate permits from the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Bus Lines—Bus lines radiate north, east and south, providing frequent service between San Francisco and all important points in California and the eleven Western states. Four lines provide transcontinental service. Sightseeing buses operate between San Francisco and neighboring points of interest, as well as in the city proper. Buses and limousines are available for charter.

Air

San Francisco International Airport is the major air terminal of the Pacific, clearing nearly 400 planes of scheduled air carriers in and out daily. The multi-million-dollar new passenger terminal and administration building recently completed is among the most modern in the world, and will accommodate a constantly-increasing flow of air traffic to and from all parts of the nation and the world.

Four of the nation's largest certified carriers, four overseas lines, and three local service carriers, all certificated, provide daily scheduled services for passengers, mail, express and freight. Daily service also is provided by the two leading air freight lines. Many of the world's air lines which do not directly serve the city, have ticket offices or traffic representatives here.

Two of the world's largest carriers have immense maintenance bases at the San Francisco airport, and other lines maintain servicing facilities which will be expanded under the development program now in progress.

Charter services, flight training and facilities for private planes are available at many smaller airports in the vicinity of San Francisco.

MANUFACTURING

The manufacturing industries in San Francisco comprise an important part of the city's activities, employing 76,000 persons in March, 1955. About one-fifth of the insured employment and payrolls was accounted for by the manufacturing industries in 1954.

In the San Francisco Metropolitan Area, manufacturing employment accounted for over one-third of the total employment during World War II, due to emphasis on production of war goods, but during the post-war period settled to one-fifth—the same as the pre-war portion.

Many of the large key industries in the San Francisco Metropolitan Area, with their plants outside the corporate city limits, have their headquarters in San Francisco, from which they conduct their finances, purchases, and sales.

BAY REGION MARKET DEVELOPMENTS

Population

The Bay Region (13-county) population, on Jan. 1, 1955, was estimated at 3,823,900, an increase of 557,516 since April 1, 1950. The growth between 1940 and 1950 exceeded the growth of all but four states—California, New York, Texas and Michigan—and the 1950 total population exceeded that of 32 states. The Bay Area (nine-county) population on Jan. 1, 1955, was estimated at 3,120,800. The growth in this area between 1940 and 1950 exceeded the growth of all but five states—California, New York, Texas, Michigan and Ohio.

Employment

Estimated civilian employment in the San Francisco Metropolitan Area (6 counties), in April, 1955, totaled 1,000,500 persons. The manufacturing group employed 207,200, or 20.5% of the total; the service group, 218,800, or 21.7%; retail group, 166,900, or 16.5%; wholesale group, 70,600, or 7%; transportation and public utilities, 110,200, or 10.9%; finance, 63,500, or 6.8%; construction, 64,700, or 6.4%; government, 87,500, or 8.7%; agriculture, forestry and fishing, 19,300, or 1.9%; the balance, unclassified.

Industrial Development

During 1954 in the Bay Region, 525 industrial projects with outlays of $128,520,273 were reported, compared to 436 projects with outlays of $259,035,184 in 1953. Of the total in 1954, 368 were expansions with outlays of $50,118,373, and 157 were new plants with outlays of $78,401,900.

Finance

1954 Bay Area (5 cities) bank debits of $47,452,106,000 was an increase of 20.8% over 1950 and 293% over 1940.

Trade

Tangible personal property sold at retail through 23,106 outlets in San Francisco during 1954 attained a total of $1,480,307,000 in taxable sales. Sales of food for off-premise consumption and gasoline sales are not included in taxable sales, but if added, San Francisco's 1954 trade would amount to about $1,800,000,000.

Sales of the 10,784 licensed retail outlets during 1954 amounted to $913,071,000; sales of 3,281 personal service establishments amounted to $40,249,000, and sales of 9,041 manufacturing, wholesaling, contracting and miscellaneous outlets amounted to $523,974,000.

The 1955 first quarter taxable retail sales in San Francisco of $363,523,000 exceeded the same period of 1954 by 8.6%, and retail outlet sales of $225,167,000 for the same period were up 10.5%. San Francisco accounted for 37.6% of the nine-Bay-county total taxable sales during the first quarter of 1955.

Construction and Real Estate

San Francisco building permits value for 1954 amounted to $57,745,732, compared with $61,493,238 in 1953. New residential permits accounted for $24,045,998 of this amount and was up 11.7%, while new nonresidential amounting to $19,329,799 was down 19.9%. Additions, alterations and repairs aggregating $14,369,935 showed a decrease of 9.2%. Newly-constructed single-family dwelling units connected with utilities in the Bay Area division of P. G. & E. were estimated at 32,450 in 1954, compared with 29,055 in 1953. The 1955 total is estimated at 42,210; of this, the San Francisco-San Jose divisions accounted for about 20,165 units, the East Bay, 14,485, and North Bay, 6,560. San Francisco real estate deeds recorded amounted to 17,116, compared with 18,363 in 1953. Mortgages and deeds of trust numbered 16,185 and amounted to $171,530,790—an increase of 4.5% in amount, but 5.2% below in number.

Intercity and Interstate Traffic

Golden Gate Bridge vehicle crossings in 1954 established a new high of 12,585,409, 5.1% above 1953. Bay Bridge vehicle crossings totaled 31,218,303 in 1954.

Total daily passenger movements to and from San Francisco through the Peninsula, East Bay and North Bay gateways during the summer of 1954 amounted to 580,482, compared with 550,349 in 1952; 82.5% of the passengers traveled by automobile and 17.5% by interurban transit. Of the total, 49.3% were from the Peninsula, 35.8% from the East Bay and 14.9% from the North Bay.

During 1954, 798,710 out-of-state automobiles entered the state through northern California gateways, carrying 2,170,553 passengers. This was an increase over 1953 of 1.9% in automobiles and 3.5% in passengers.

SAN FRANCISCO BUSINESS ACTIVITY IN 1954

Business activity in San Francisco for the year 1954 established a new annual record, 0.5% above the 1953 previous high, despite the faltering conditions in the first half of 1954.

Transportation

The 1954 freight-car movements and ship arrivals were fewer than in 1953, but airport traffic, truck and bridge traffic rose to new highs. San Francisco

Airport business increased substantially over 1953; planes in and out totaled 131,138, a gain of 13.2%; passengers off and on exceeded 2,000,000 for the first time (2,191,135), a gain of 13.7%. Air freight gained 14%, air express 6%, but air mail settled 1%. Freight-car movements in San Francisco-Oakland switching limits in 1954 declined 8.6% to 421,469 cars. Truck movements over the Bay and Golden Gate Bridges were up 3.2%. Ocean-going tonnage through the Port of San Francisco during 1954 held up within 3% of 1953. Foreign cargo accounted for 50% of the Port's total tonnage and was within 2.5% of the 1953 level. Coastwise traffic amounted to 131,169 tons and was practically the same as in 1953. Inter-coastal traffic of 447,116 tons was off 6.3%. The Port's total revenue tons of 5,352,769 was off 5.5%. There were 4,662 cargo vessel arrivals in San Francisco Bay during 1954, or 8.6% fewer than in 1953.

Living Costs

Consumer prices in the San Francisco Bay Area during 1954 averaged 0.1% below 1953.

Purchasing power of the dollar, in terms of consumer prices in San Francisco on Dec. 15, 1954, and in relation to the 1947-49 dollar, amounted to 86c.

FINANCE

Financial Capital—San Francisco, the financial and insurance capital of the West, is headquarters of the world's largest bank and is the nation's second most important financial center. Seven of the nation's 100 largest commercial banks are located in San Francisco.

The Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco is the headquarters of the Twelfth Federal Reserve District. Member banks in this district did the second largest volume of business in 1954, accounting for 14% of the total assets, 22% of the time deposits, 17% of taxes on net income, and 14% of the net profits of all member banks in the Federal Reserve system.

Thirty large corporations with their national headquarters in San Francisco have combined assets of more than $26,900,000,000. Representing a broad cross-section of the national economy, they include finance, utilities, railroads, shipping, manufacturing and trade. A few of these corporations are among the largest in the nation—one of the banks and the gas and electric company are the nation's foremost—and a railroad is next to the largest in its field. Seven are billion-dollar businesses, and twelve range between $100,000,000 and $1,000,000,000.

Many hundreds of firms with national reputation have established their Western headquarters in San Francisco.

Stock Exchange—The expeditious handling of widely-diversified financial transactions has contributed greatly to the sound industrial and trade relations between San Francisco and the Western regional markets. The San Francisco Stock Exchange in 1954 continued to hold a prominent place among the nation's largest regional security markets.

Banking—There are 21 banks in San Francisco, several of which operate branches. A few banks with headquarters here operate branch systems throughout the state. Sixteen banks are under State supervision—six commercial; five commercial and savings; three commercial, savings and trust; and one savings and trust, and one title insurance company operating a trust department. There are five national banks and each has a trust department; the trust departments are under State supervision.

Insurance

San Francisco is the insurance center of the West and the California headquarters of about two-thirds of the insurance organizations authorized to transact business in California. Represented in California are nearly 400 insurers offering all classes of business, the major lines including life, disability, auto, fire, liability, health, marine, title, fidelity and security, workman's compensation, and burglary and theft. The industry, including insurance carriers, agents and brokers, employs over 21,350 persons with insured payroll of about $85,000,000. In addition, San Francisco is the headquarters of sixteen insurance associations including such prominent ones as the Board of Fire Underwriters of the Pacific, Pacific Fire Rating Bureau and the Insurance Brokers Exchange.

PUBLIC BUILDINGS

First comes the group in the Civic Center, declared by the Duke of Connaught to be the finest thing of its kind in the world. The group consists: (1) City Hall, of classic design, surmounted by an immense dome, higher than the dome of the Capitol at Washington; cost, $4,000,000. (2) Civic Auditorium, seating capacity of 12,000 in the main auditorium, with numerous small halls; cost, $2,000,000. (3) San Francisco Public Library; cost, $1,500,000. (4) State Building; cost, $1,000,000. (5) War Memorial group of buildings, as a part of Civic Center; cost, $4,000,000, consisting of Civic Opera House, American Legion halls, etc. The San Francisco Federal Building cost $3,000,000.

The California Palace of the Legion of Honor, in Lincoln Park, overlooking the Golden Gate, is a replica of the Palace of the Legion of Honor in Paris. It was presented to the City. The structure cost $2,000,000. Other leading public buildings are the U. S. Mint, located at Market St. and Duboce Ave., built in 1937; the Post Office Building, corner of 7th and Mission streets; and the Ferry Building, at the foot of Market St. on the waterfront, built by the State in 1896 at a cost of $1,000,000. The Ferry Building is 659 feet long and 156 feet wide, and in addition to serving as a ferryboat terminal, contains many State offices. The Customs House and U. S. Appraiser's Building represents an expenditure of more than $4,000,000. In Golden Gate Park are located the deYoung Memorial Museum, Academy of Sciences, Steinhart Aquarium, Museum of Anthropology, and the Morrison Planetarium. At Kearny and Washington streets is the Hall of Justice, erected in 1910 at a cost of $1,000,000, containing police courts and the criminal department of the superior court. The Golden Gate Bridge, costing $35,000,000, was opened to traffic in May, 1937, and the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge, costing $78,000,000, was opened to vehicular traffic Nov. 12, 1936. San Francisco East Bay Terminal (at Mission and 1st streets) is a $2,000,000 structure opened to interurban train service Jan. 15, 1939. The $2,730,000 Rincon Annex Post Office was opened in 1940. (See also "Social Features.")

PARKS

San Francisco is noted for its beautiful and extensive parks. There are 53 parks, with 3,360 acres, and 71 recreation units, with 280 acres. Still others are under development. In addition to the municipal parks, the several Government reservations, the largest of which is the Presidio, comprising 1,542 acres, all go toward augmenting the aggregate. The area given does not include the numerous golf courses in and about the city. More than $15,000,000 has been expended on municipal parks since 1870. All of San Francisco's parks are "man-made." Originally only sand dunes marked the spots where today are gardens of rare flowers, shrubs and giant trees. Even lakes, streams, waterfalls, hills, valleys and dales were developed by man, to say nothing of the miles of walks, bridle paths and boulevards traversing the parks. Golden Gate Park is one of the world's most noted playgrounds. It comprises 1,013 acres and is about three miles long and a half-mile wide, extending from Stanyan St. on the east to the Pacific Ocean on the west, and lies in the midst of San Francisco's choice residential districts. In the park are many museums and monuments, aviary, aquarium, music temple, stadium, tennis courts, baseball grounds, football grounds, trotting and packing horse track, athletic field and running track paddocks, and children's playgrounds. There are more than 25 miles of improved driveways in the park. Wild animals of many species are found here, while every bird and squirrel known to California flies or roams at will through the dense woods and shrubbery. At the western end of the park is to be seen the sloop "Gjoa," the only vessel that ever navigated the Northwest Passage. It was given to San Francisco by its owner, the late Capt. Roald Amundsen, explorer and discoverer of the South Pole. The gift was accepted by San Francisco, June 16, 1909. The ship was hauled upon the beach and is protected by a high iron fence.

SOCIAL FEATURES

Events—The cosmopolitan character of San Francisco is well portrayed by the interesting and diversified events which take place daily. The citizen or visitor will find many educational things of interest, such as lectures, concerts, readings, recitals, and special exhibits of drawing, painting, sculpture, and other works of art.

Art Galleries—Three public art galleries and several semi-public galleries offer exhibits and collections of national and international fame. The M. H. deYoung Memorial Museum, the San Francisco Museum of Art, and the California Palace of the Legion of Honor attract hundreds of thousands of visitors annually.

Library—The main Public Library is located in the Civic Center. There are 23 branches and one depository. This system has 669,753 volumes. According to the last annual report, 2,605,132 books were circulated for home reading. In addition to the public libraries, there are nearly 100 private and special libraries, including technical and institutional. There are also numerous circulating libraries.

Public Buildings—The Civic Auditorium, with a seating capacity of 9,136, contains a magnificent organ and is in use for a variety of events daily throughout the year. The Civic Opera House and the War Memorial Building provide a home for opera, the symphony orchestra, and a permanent war relics museum. San Francisco was the first city in the nation to have a civic opera house. It has a seating capacity of 3,285. The Civic Opera House and the War Memorial buildings were chosen for the meeting place of the United Nations delegates who assembled there from April 25 to June 26, 1945, to construct the charter of the organization.

Clubs—There are numerous societies, clubs, lodges and fraternal groups beside the civic, historical, military, religious, and sporting groups. San Francisco contains many foreign colonies where the daily life and social affairs familiar to their native countries have been re-established here.

Churches—San Francisco has 430 churches, representing many denominations. The congregations include people of many nationalities, such as English, German, Italian, French, Spanish, Scandinavian, Russian and Chinese.

PUBLIC HEALTH

San Francisco public health facilities include a bacteriological laboratory, a chemical laboratory, consolidated inspection services, the San Francisco Hospital, the Laguna Honda Home for aged indigents, the Hassler Health Farm for convalescent tuberculosis cases, six emergency hospitals, child welfare centers, well-baby clinics and other health control facilities scattered throughout the city.

RECREATION AND CULTURE

San Francisco is a city of supreme and exotic beauty, a city of many interesting aspects, and a cultural and vacation center for those who like to explore. The vacation experts, Californians, Inc., say—"There is the storybook part that is not on the map—the things of the city that guidebooks only hint at—small in area as great cities go, it is America's most cosmopolitan city. Almost surrounded by the sea, it's like being on shipboard all the time—there's salt in the ocean breeze, filling you with buoyant energy."

Some Outstanding Points of Interest and Their Characteristics

The Waterfront—"Threshold to all the world."

San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge—"World's largest, with foundations of greatest depth."

Golden Gate Bridge—"Longest single span in the world."

Latin Quarter—"Spreads up the slopes of Telegraph Hill and on to Fisherman's Wharf."

Educational Institutions—"Few cities in the world offer finer or more diversified facilities."

Chinatown—"Largest Chinese settlement in America."

Hotels, Restaurants—"Distinguished and distinctive."

Theatres—"Bid you to come forth for entertainment."

Downtown San Francisco—"Atmosphere all its own."

Civic Center, Auditorium, Opera—"First city to have a civic opera house and symphony concerts."

Parks, Museums, Sports—"Enough for days and days for spectators and participants alike."

Scenic Drives, Evenings—"Stunning vistas framed in the afterglow of sunset, and then, the lights."

Other facilities for outdoor activities embrace many golf courses in and adjacent to the city, including three San Francisco municipal courses; a yacht harbor; and several boat and swimming clubs.

A tour of San Francisco is refreshing and filled with many pleasant surprises. The city's delightful setting amidst sparkling waters and high hills is inspiring. Beautiful vistas, lovely homes, a happy climate, comfortable living, all combine to spread a romantic aura over the whole community and lend to its distinction.

CLIMATE

San Francisco is a clean city with a cool, bracing, equable, open-all-year-around climate. The daily mean maximum temperature is 62.6 degrees. The daily mean minimum temperature is 50.4 degrees. The average daily temperature range is 12.2 degrees.

The hours of fog over San Francisco Bay recorded by the Lighthouse Service averaged only 153 per year.

San Francisco is one of a few of nature's air-conditioned cities, relatively warm in winter and cool in summer. The long-time record of the Weather Bureau reveals that the sun shines in San Francisco during 66 of every 100 possible hours.

POPULATION AND CHARACTERISTICS

San Francisco Residents

The population of San Francisco on April 1, 1950, was 775,357 according to the U. S. Census, or 140,821 above 1940, and ranking San Francisco among the leading cities in the U. S. in numerical population gain. On Jan. 1, 1955, the population was estimated at 805,000. It is the eleventh largest city in the nation, based on population, but ranks close to first in several economic and social developments.

On April 1, 1940, the resident population, reported at 634,536, included 630,785 civilians and only 3,751 military. At about the peak of the nation's war production, on April 1, 1944, the resident civilian population had risen to 683,340 and the resident military had soared to 103,250, bringing the total resident population to 786,590. Near the end of the war, on Aug. 1, 1945, the special U. S. Census reported that San Francisco had 827,400 residents, including 59,753 military; 20,416 seamen on ships registered to San Francisco, and about 30,000 hotel occupants, or nearly 110,000 persons other than those living in owner-occupied and tenant dwellings.

EDUCATION

Fine Facilities for Education and Research

The educational facilities available in San Francisco and the Bay Area cover all fields and are outstanding in the West and in their rank among national institutions. Few cities in the world offer finer or more diversified educational opportunities.

Enrollment in institutions of higher education in northern California is above the national average in relation to the population.

Higher education facilities include the public universities system, state colleges, public junior colleges, private four-year colleges and private junior colleges.

Besides the extensive research activities carried out by the larger universities of California and Stanford, a recent survey revealed numerous northern California organizations with research facilities which are expending many millions annually in research activities.

Public Schools

There are 123 schools under the jurisdiction of the Department of Education of San Francisco, with a total average daily attendance of 84,720.

Other Schools

There are also, in addition to the public school system, a number of private, parochial, non-sectarian and technical schools. There are several thousand children in the city attending these private schools.

There are numerous privately-established schools in San Francisco which offer courses of training in practically all phases of business, art, dramatics, and the various trades.

Veterans' Training

Approved to offer training to war veterans under Public Law 346, as amended, and Public Law 550, published in January, 1954, were about 78 educational institutions in San Francisco, 237 in the Bay Region, and 285 in northern California. Included in this group are universities, colleges, junior colleges, high schools, medical schools, nursing schools, vocational schools and professional and semi-professional schools.

Universities and Colleges

The University of San Francisco and the San Francisco State College are located in the city. The University of California, at Berkeley, and Stanford University, at Palo Alto, are both within easy commuting distances of San Francisco. In addition, the University of California maintains several branches in San Francisco, including colleges of medicine, dentistry, pharmacy and law; and the California School of Fine Arts and Stanford University's colleges of dentistry and medicine also are located here. Other colleges in the more immediate area offering standard curricula include Dominican, Mills, San Francisco College for Women and St. Mary's.
